MAJOR FACELIFT FOR ELSINORE'S HARBOUR AREA. The foundation for the change is the Culture Harbour Kronborg, a landscape project that stresses the unique location of Hamlets Castle, as strengthens its fortifications and modernizes Elsinore Harbour. In the harbour area have the old shipyard buildings been transformed into the Culture Yard (multi culture centre).

A new sculpture HAN is placed at the front of the Culture Yard and can be seen from the new cruise quay. The sculpture depicts a young man sitting placed on a stone, and like his famous "big sister" has HAN a dreamy gaze turned towards the sea.

Next door, the maritime museum is built in a former dry dock. The museum are designed by Denmark's prize-winning architects BIG. The maritime museum opens 29 June 2013.

All in all with rebuilding of the new port facilities, sculpture, the maritime museum and culture yard, there are invested more than one billion Danish kroner in this project which are the largest construction in Elsinore since the construction of Kronborg Castle in the 1600s Further information: Tel. +45 4928 2267, www.kulturomraade.dk and www.maritimemuseum.dk

NEW CRUISE QUAY IN ELSINORE? Port of Elsinore is working with the Team of Bermello Ajamil & Partners and Consult DC to assist them in evaluating the development of new cruise facilities to accommodate larger cruise vessels into the future as well as meeting the needs and expectations of the cruise vessels services and guests. The Team will be reaching out to key cruise line decision-makers as part of this effort. Further information: Harbour master Benny Carlsen, mob +45 2531 1083, www.portofelsinore.com
